OPEN REVIVAL MEETINGS

Rev. E. V. Regester Preaches First Sermon in Series of Services to be Held at Methodist Church South.

Revival services opened at the Methodist Church South last night. Rev. E. V. Regester took for the subject of his sermon Matt. 28:19-20. "Go ye, therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you; and, lo, I am with you always, even unto the ends of the world. Amen."

After announcing his text he said substantially as follows: There is plenty of room for missionary work in our own church. Let the children join—they want to do so. Jesus said, "Suffer little children to come unto me for of such is the kingdom of heaven." Sometimes God saves an old sinner, but not often. "Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, etc.," is from ultimate authority. These words come from Jesus Christ! He is clothed with authority of the God head. It is the order of the captain of our salvation by the authority that is in Him, He deliveerd the message of the hour, This great commission Jesus Christ has given unto His church—not to a few men's consciences. We must carry his gospel to all ends of the world so the whole world shall know Jesus.

We do not for a moment think of controversy or debate if He is the great leader. Then our obligation is obedience. The King has spoken. Our King can do no wrong and cannot err.

Missions is the original thought of God. In the great heart of God there laid the scheme for redemption concerning all generations, in all centuries and in all parts of the universe. There is an inspiration in the work today. It has not been long since missions made no appeal to men's consciences or pocketbook. A few men and women did care, but now it is not confined to western borders or western Europe, but where ever the sun shows its face.

It was in the Baltimore Missions in Trinity church that the Woman's Missionary society was organized and out of it has grown the Woman's Missionary society of this church. The woman who founded it is in the audience. This work of the women not only reaches the shores yonder, but all the banks of the river of life in our own land. The flood of immigration has brought to our shores our obligation. With these facts before you you can feel the challenge in the word missionary.

It is your Christian obligation to bring to others the gospel. It comes with your knowledge of Jesus Christ. Tell the story unto the ends of the earth. There are some today who laugh when you mention missions.

Read the second Psalm and find out what God has said in regard to missions—it cannot fail—then you will know that Jesus is the Lord to the glory of God the Father.

Notes.

There will be services in the church at 7:45 every evening this week except Saturday. All are asked to take their "blue book" so they can have a part in the song service.

The Woman's Missionary society will hold prayer meetings every afternoon at 3 o'clock. They invite all women in the church, also strangers to attend these meetings.

PREPARING FOR TRIAL

Old Legal Opponents in Beatie Case Will Line up Again in Chamberlain Case.

Richmond, Nov. 5.—A great legal battle at the trial of the slayer of Judge Albert W. Chamberlain is presaged today by the announcement that Louis Wenderburg has been retained to assist in prosecution of whovever may be indicted for the murder.

Dr. Asa W. Chamberlain, now held in the Henrico jail in connection with the murder and mutilation of the body of his brother, has engaged Harry M. Smith, Jr., as counsel.

It is a peculiar coincidence that these attorneys, leaders of the bar in this section, were opposing counsel at the famous trial of Henry Clay Beattie, convicted of the murder of his beautiful wife in August, 1911.

The mystery surrounding the dismemberment of the body and its burial under fence posts on Dr. Chamberlain's farm, has been deepened today by a statement of Judge Chamberlain's son, Albert Lee Chamberlain, who said:

"I did not expect to find my father's body intact after receiving word that he had been killed. When I learned en route to Richmond, of the finding of his mutilated body was not surprised."

Was it a premonition or was it the possession of certain information not yet revealed that caused young Chamberlain to hold to this belief? The young man himself refuses to explain.

He will return here for the trial of his uncle. His testimony at that time may throw light on the mystery.

TO SEIZE HOARDED COAL.

Fuel Administration Prepared To Redistribute It if it Becomes Necessary.

Washington, Nov. 5.—A warning has been issued by the fuel administration that drastic steps will be taken to prevent further coal boarding by large industries and by individual homes.

Industrial concerns and households which now have large supplies, it is understood, will be denied further deliveries of fuel until their present supply is exhausted. If this plan does not readjust the unbalanced fuel situation, it is said that the coal hoarders will be compelled to give up a part of what they have for distribution among those who have none. The latter plan, it is stated, will only be resorted to in case there is real suffering from cold in the large cities.

The Fuel Administration has information that thousands of individuals have bought two and three years' supply of coal and stored it away. These persons may be allowed to hold a year's supply, but they will probably be compelled to give up the remainder.

The following statement is given out by the Fuel Administration:

"If any shortage of domestic coal develops it is due to the individual hoarding of coal and may result in its redistribution by the Apportionment and Distribution Division of the United States Fuel Administration.

"The Fuel Administration has information and is conducting a general inquiry in the direction of the storing of coal by industrial consumers and various manufacturing establishments.

"Through the co-operation of both shippers and consumers, the Fuel Administration hopes and believes that it will not be necessary to take drastic action in the direction of suspending shipments to such plants."

INTERNAL TROUBLES.

Austrian Company is Annihilated by Germans in Clash.

Galatz, Nov. 5.—While the front south of Maraseshti, northwest of this city, remains comparatively quiet, there is internal warfare within the lines of the Teuton forces. Last week an advanced Russian post reported it had heardthe rattle of machine gun fire inside the enemy lines. Later, statements from prisoners and deserters told of a fight which followed the slapping of an Austrian's face by a German officer. Then Germans and Austrians fought, the conflict not ending until an Austrian company had been utterly wiped out and many Germains slain.

The Bulgarians, too, show marked enimity toward the Germans, which has resulted in the withdrawal of two Bulgarian divisions on this front.

The attendants were Miss Esther P. Mansfield nad W. R. Smith, the latter of Washington. The bridalcouple left the city soon after the wedding on a southern trip. They will reside in Washington.

BOUND HAND AND FOOT.

Man Found in Petersburg After Being Attacked and Robbed.

Petersburg, Va., Nov. 5.—Robert Lee Triplett, a young man residing in this city, was found bound hand and foot in Rose Alley yesterday morning. A negro passing through the alley heard some one call and, going to the rear of a building, found Triplett lying on the ground, his hands tied behind him with wire, and his legs tied in the same manner.

When released, Triplett said he went through the alley Saturday night on his way home and stepped out of the alley behind the building for a second. All at once he was grabbed around the throat and choked almost into insensibility. He felt hands going through the pockets of his clothes, and his overcoat and $19 in money were taken from him. His hands were then tied behind him with wire, and his legs tied securely together in the same manner. He was then shoved a little further from the alley entrance and left by his assailants.

He is positive that three men assaulted him, but beyond this can give no clue to his assailants. He made every effort in his power to attract the attention of persons living in the vicinity of the alley, but did not succeed, and remained there until found this morning.

NINETEEN MEN PERISH.

Sixty-six Escape; Many Injured by Jumping From Windows.

Paterson, N. J., Nov. 5.—Nineteen men lost their lives yesterday at a fire which destroyed the Paterson Salvation Army Rescue Mission at 42 Mill street. Eighteen of the victims were burned to death before rescuers could reach them. The other, one of the fourteen taken to the hospital, succumbed there to his injuries. Many others were badly injured, either in the surging mass of humanity which panic-stricken, stampeded from the building, or by leaping from windows.

Over a score sustained injuries of a minor character. These were treated by ambulance surgeons. Of those who leaped from the windows of the burning building thirteen were so badly hurt that their removal to the hospital was imperative. Some of these, it was said, may not recover.

The fire started among a large stock of newspapers and magazines stored in the rear of the building. It spread rapidly to a large pile of kindling wood in the yard nearby and licked up the side of the building, which burned like tinder.

There were eighty-five men sleeping in the building when the fire started.

CHILD KILLED BY MAN.

A. O. White Shoots Charles L. Taylor, Accidentally Slaying Girl He Was Raising.

Clifton Forge, Va., Nov. 5.—Chas. L. Taylor, a Chesapeake and Ohio fireman, was slightly injured and a little girl was almost instantly killed yesterday afternoon shortly after 6 o'clock when Captain A. D. White, a Chesapeake and Ohio yard conductor, fired three shots at Taylor. There is said to have been bad feeling between the two men for some time, due to jealousyy on White's part.

The shooting occurred on a crowded thoroughfare, and near a church at the time when one of the societies was to be held. The killing of the girl named Cottle, who was a niece of White's wife, was accidental. One of the bullets went wild and struck her in the brain. She died before medical aid could reach her.

Taylor was talking to Mrs. White at the time of the shooting. The girl who was shot was six years old and was being raised by Mrs. White.

White was immediately placed under arrest and the excitement was so great that the doors of the City Hall, in the rear of which is the jail, had to be locked.

Taylor was taken to the local hospital and his wounds dressed, when he was sent back down town, the wound proving to be a very slight one. All the parties are well known here.

Experiences that are common to all people, north or south, east or west, and amusing episodes that every man or woman will recognize as his or her own individual experiences are shown in Marguerite Clark's latest Paramount picture, "Bab's Burglar" which appears at the Richmond Theatre tonight. The youth with the budding moustache who gets desperately ill on smoking his first cigar; the boarding-school girl who spends her year's allowance in a month; the father who understands his girl's frequent outbursts and stands by through thick and thin; all these and many more are found in Mary Robert Rinehart's clever story.

In keeping up its policy of showing the best pictures that are obtainable the management of the Richmond announces the following high-class productions.

SUCCESSFUL CAMPAIGN

Officials Pleased Over Results Achieved in Food Pledge Card Solicitation of Last Week.

Food Administration campaign director C. Edwin Michael, of Roanoke wires that splendid reports have been received from every county and city in Virginia, showing intense interest and an earnest desire on the part of the people of this state to co-operate with every force of the government, and especially with the food administration.

The returns are not complete by any means, as a large majority of the county chairmen have asked for more time during the coming week in which to obtain returns from outlying districts with which communication is difficult and necessary slow. All county chairmen and workers are earnestly requested to continue their efforts to obtain final reports during the present week, and when these are all received it is believed that Virginia will have registered a large a percentage of her population as any ohter state in the union.

The educatioal work which has been performed by thousands of men and women, the school teachers and patriotic citizens generally, will be an immense help in securing the cooperation of every patriotic citizen to help with the war. Many citizens of our state who have here to for misundestood conditions, now fully realize and appreciate that before and appreciate that the food administration efforts are vital and necessary for the sustenance of our soldiers and allies and that this necessary assistance can be rendered without unnecessary hardships upon the people of the United States.

Furthermore the great masses are beginning to unierstand that the efforts of the food administration will ultimately result in the intelligent distribution of the food products of the world and will prevent much speculation and profiteering which would otherwise occur.

The food administration recognizes and appreciates the splendid and valuable patriotic service of the thousands of workers who have given of their time and effort in this splendid pledge card campaign.

URGE CLOSE WATCH.

Seaboard Safety Council Thinks Enemy Submarines Have Visited Secluded Parts of East.

Richmond, Nov. 5.—The state council of defense has received from Roger W. Babson, of Massachusetts, chairman of the seaboard safety committee, a request for the maintenance of a vigilant lookout for anything unusual or suspicious in appearance at sea along the Virginia coast.

It is urged that "whenever any person is in a boat, or walks along the shore, or even looks out upon the water from a window, he should consider it his patriotic duty to be constantly on the alert and to observe and promptly report any suspicion object or circumstance. Every one living in sight of the ocean should have access to good binocular glasses. If necessary glasses owned by families away from the seaboard could be mobilized and furnished to seaboard families."

The seaboard safety committee think it quite possible that German submarines have already visited secluded spots along the Atlantic coast, and have laid cables from huts to submarine buoys moored some distance from land. Reports of the movements of the vessels are perhaps being sent from these huts to such buoys, where they are received by submerged submarines nad transmitted by wireless to German bases. Every effort should be made to detect and put a stop to such spy service.

LISTEN FOR ASSEMBLY CALL.

The polls will be opened throughout the state of Virginia at sunrise tomorrow morning and remain open until sunset. We again enjoin upon every member of the Democratic party in the Old Dominion to make arrangements tonight to cast his vote sometime tomorrow, and let no other engagements interfere with the performance of his duty. Apathy in any one is always to be deplored, and although there is no decided opposition to the democratic candidates for the various state positions, after having nominated them in a spirited election during the past summer, every suffragan should realize that it is his duty to cast his ballot for the party candidates in the general election.

General Rufus A. Ayers, of Big Stone Gap, has issued the following statement to the Democrats of Virginia it should be memorized by Alexandrians:

It is very important that every Democrat should go to the polls and cast his vote next Tuesday.

Do not neglect this because you regard it certain that our candidates will be elected. Do not say "my vote will not be needed," and stay away. Should enough voters take this course, "it would not be certain."

Remember the teriffic struggle of 1883, when we succeeded in wresting the control of the State from the Republicans.

Review the wonderful progress of the State along all lines under Democratic rule.

Every Democrat in the State owes it to himself and family, owes it to the party, to go to the polls and show to the Republicans that we stand as a solid phalanx against their return to power.

The campaign for Governor and other State offices came to an end Saturday night. There is no doubt of the election of Westmoreland Davis, the Democratic candidate for Governor, over Thomas J. Muncey, the Republican nominee but this is no reason for apathy on the part of any member of the dominant party.

IMPORTANT RULING.

Judge Richardson, of the Hustings Court of Richmond, last week handed down a decision which will be of interest to every officer in the state having power to make arrests.

After receiving specific instructions from the court that unless the police officer had a warrant in his possession for the arrest of the man at the time he broke open the door of his residence, or had reasonable ground is to believe that the man had committed a felony, he was a trespasser, and the prisoner had a right under the law to resist any attack made upon, the jury in the Hustings Court acquitted James Wray, colored, charged with attempting to kill Patrolman R. B. Sowell, Jr.

Jurymen reached their verdict without leaving their seats in the jury box.

Judge Richardson's instructions to the jury in the case were as follows:

"The court instructs the jury that if they believe from the evidence that at the time Sowell broke into the dwelling-house of the accused in the night-time and that he, the said Sowell, did not then and there have a warrant in his possession for the arrest of the accused, or that he, the said Sowell, did not then have reasonable ground to believe that the accused had committed a felony, then the said Sowell was a trespasser upon the premises of the accused, and he, the accused, had a right under the law to resist any attack made upon him, or to use such force as may have been necessary to repel the said Sowell, although they (the jury) may further believe that the accused had committed a misdeameanor."

GRADE CROSSING PERILS.

The killing last week of a young farmer and his mother at a grade crossing in Brunswick county has sent horror over that section of Virginia. It was the old, old story, the victims were caught upon a railroad track in front of an oncoming train.

During the past few years Alexandria has been shocked on more than one occasion when the lives of well-known residents have been snuffed out almost in the twinkling of an eye by their automobiles having been struck by trains.

These terrible happenings cause much talk for a time, but they soon give way to the other themes, and few movements towards eliminating the dangers of grade crossings are made.

The Richmond Virginian in speaking of the Brunswick horror says:

"There are almost daily accounts of distressing accidents to automobilists in different parts of the country, which emphasize the necessity of the abolition of the grade crossings. Grade crossings are dangerous enough for vehicles drawn by horses, but they are increasingly dangerous in these days when travel by automobile is so common. The value of life is so great that all grade crossings should be abolished by the law; certainly crossings that are approached by dangerous curves, or banks, or trees which obstruct a clear view of the road."

SERENE CONDITIONS

There was a decided falling off in the number of persons who during the past year have found it necessary to make flying visits to Washington Saturday night. This was a dies non in the Police Court, no arrests having been made Saturday night nor yesterday. The explanation of such tranquil conditions given by the many in few words—saloons and places where liquor had been sold in the capital city had gone out of business.

There was a report in the city yesterday that several Alexandrians had made a trip in an automobile to Baltimore Saturday for the purpose of obtaining wet goods, and while in the Monumental City their auto had met with an accident, causing the vehicle to turn a somesault. It was impossible to verify the rumor.

Monday morning's report of the proceedings of the Police Court of Alexandria has during the past year been elongated. Sometimes about a dozen parties have had their names upon the docet to answer the charge of having been drunk Saturday night or Sunday. The fact that no cases of drunkenness or disorderly conduct were upon the blotter this morning is significant.

One man was arrested in Washington yesterday on a charge of operating an automobile while intoxicated and another arrested for drunkenness.

OUR SAILORS AND NAVY.

Much is to be heard these days concerning the sacrifices that are being made by those who are joining the army and much praise is accorded them. This is well. Too much cannot be said in their behalf. But at the same time, our sailor boys and the men of the navy should not be forgotten. They are entitled to equal commendation for the part they are taking in defending the country, for it must be conceded that they are taking just as great chances with their lives in the fight against the sneaking submarines and in carrying Uncle Sam's armies across the water to foreign shores. Were it not for our brave sailors, in fact, Pershing's troops would not be in France today. So, we say, hats off to the sailors and marines, among whom will be found several from good old Virginia and our home city of Alexandria.

On the first of the present month of November the total force of the navy was given as 147,127. These figures do not include the naval reserve force. There are at present eighteen naval training stations in this country and two more are to be opened before the month is over. Of those now in operation the one at Hampton Roads, in this state, is said to be the busiest, over seventeen hundred young men arriving there to enter the service each week.

Virginia has reason to be proud of its sailors and marines. Let us not forget the sacrifices they too, are making for their state and country.

NEWS OF THE DAY

If the text of President Wilson's war message and the text of his reply to the Pope have the same fate as the words of the Czar of Russia there will be scant chance of their ever reaching any considerable portion of the German people. The Committee on Public Information yesterday made public a translation of an article appearing in the Muenchner Post of August 18. It tells of six death sentences and an aggregate of ninety-one years' imprisonment imposed by Austrian court-martials on women, boys and workmen who passed from ane to another the text and copies of proclamation by the Czar and General Rennenkampf, dropped from a Russian airplane over the Austrian lines in 1914.

After a nine-hour struggle with rising water in the downtown New York subway which completely tied up traffic and threatened the collapse of streets, the flood caused by a bursting water main last midnight was overcome yesterday. Fire engines and huge centrifugal pumps were used in rescuing the subway. A force of 500 workmen was employed in the task. There was a flood four feet deep in the underground system and in places large lakes formed. The water poured in from a subway emergency exit in Franklin street. Cellars in the neighborhood were flooded. The accident was owing to increased water pressure in the main since the opening of the Ashokan Dam supply.

The gravity of the situation and the fusion of all parties into one national entity determined, at all odds, to drive the enemy from the mother soil, apparently, according to high officials, has reached even the Vatican, where it is realized it is advisable to abandon any efforts toward peace, for the present, at least. The leaders in the Catholic party have made declarations of their support to united Italy in the supreme struggle, and it is said in official quarters that the Vatican has been informed that for the moment any attitude which might be considered to run counter to the national aspirations would be most unwelcome.

French and American members of the Lafayette flying corps are rejoicing over the news just received that Corporal Everett Buckley, of Kilburne, Ill., was not killed, as reported on September 5, but is a prisoner in Germany. The report states that Corporal Buckley was wounded when taken prisoner by the Germans.

During the ocurse of the battle of Malmaison, Allied aviators, with great audacity, attacked the enemy troops with their machine guns, bombarded stations and opints of concentration. They fought 611 aerial engagements. Sixteen German airplanes were brought down and three captive balloons set on fire. In addition, fifty enemy airplanes fell inside their own lines, the greater part of them being destroyed.

E. Ray Richardson, Richmond, and Miss Genevieve H. Stearns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Stearns of Richmond but formerly of Fredericksburg, were married Tuesday at 3 o'clock at Park Place Methodist church, Richmond by Rev. Wm. E. Thompson, D.D. The chancel was banked with palms and white chrysanthemums. A reception followed the church ceremony.

Rev. and Mrs. J. J. Lanier of Fredericksburg celebrated their silver wedding anniversary on Friday evening. About three hundred friends extended their felicitations to the couple.

Lewis P. Ryon, age 30, died on September. 11th, of tuberculosis in El Paso, Texas, where he had gone for his health. He was the son of John Ryon, who lived many years ago in Leesburg, but at present a resident of Herndon. He leaves a wife, a small child, parents, one sister and two brothers.

Miss Anne Berry Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Hamilton, Fredericksburg, and Robert Moore, U. S. Navy, now stationed at Norfolk, were married in the Fredericksburg Trinity Episcopal church on Saturday, Oct. 27th. They left immediately after the ceremony for a southern trip.

Anna, the two year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hoskins of Herndon, died on Saturday evening as a result of burns received a few hours before. She fell into the house fire.

Miss Janne Louise Aud, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Edgar Aud of Herndon, and Kolbe Curtice, son of Dr. and Mrs. Cooper Curtice of Vienna, were united in marriage in the St. Timothy's Episcopal church, Wednesday, October 24th. Rev. Allen Castleman, rector of Old Falls church officiated. The wedding was a very pretty affair. The church was artistically floraly arranged and the costumes of the bridal procession were delightfully pleasing. the wedding trip was to New York and Atlantic City. There was a large number of our-of-town guests present at the wedding and home services.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Stowell and little Virginia have moved into Washington for the winter. Their bungalow here will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stowell—Herndon Observer.

Andrew Jackson Winston, Confederate veteran, aged 78, died Oct. 27th, at th home of a nephew in Richmond.

The engagement of Miss Edith Hutt Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. R. Marshall of Neenah, Westmoreland county, Va., to Lieut. John Randolph Travis, Machine Gun Corps, U. S. A., son of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Travis, New London, Caroline county, Va., has been announced. Lieut. Travis is now in England, where he has been consigned to duty with the English army.

H. B. Lane has received a letter from his brother, Wm. A. Lane, written Oct. 30th, on board the ocean liner Espagle. Mr. Lane and wife are returning from Paris where they have been sojourning for the past several years. When the letter was written the ship was within a few hours of New York and the letter was mailed in New York. The trip occupied ten days and was uneventful. Mrs. Lane will engage in charitable work in New York city. It is likely that Mr. and Mrs. Lane will visit Fredericksburg this winter—Fredericksburg Star.

A new witness in the Chamberlain murder case in Goochland whose disclosures may throw further light on the real facts, has been discovered. W. A. Bailey, a neighbor of Dr. Chamberlain, conducted a personal investigation of the premises immediately after the discovery of the body. Just what this man knows remains a secret yet, and will in all probability not be disclosed until the trial comes up. His evidence, however, is believed by all farmers of that district to be of vast importance, and that it will straighten out several incompatibilities in the statements of the accused.

The twentieth anniversary of the consecration of Bishop Robert A. Gibson, of the Episcopal diocese of Virginia, was celebrated Friday night at the Central Young Men's Christian Association in Richmond by an informal reception. Between 8:30 and 11 o'clock probably 1,000 friends of the Bishop passed him as he stood under the American flag and shook his hand. During the evening Bishop Coadjutor William Cabell Brown presented Judge Edmund Waddill, Judge R. Carter Scott and John Stewart Bryan, all of whom briefly and appropriately addressed the audience.

Treasurers of the state of Virginia should not collect the 5 per cent penalty for taxes paid on or before December 1. Such is the ruling and advice of Auditor C. Lee Moore in a circular letter sent to the treasurers in all parts of the state last week. The law provides for payments of taxes without penalty on or before December 1 of each year. Mr. Moore advises that the penalty should and does attach to all claims that are not paid in full prior to December 2. This gives the taxpayer the benefit of the entire day of December 1, and taxes not paid by that time are collectable, with penalty, by due process of law.

The fire commissioners of Danville eager to determine the promptness with which the fire department could answer an alarm turned in from one of the outlying streets, fear that the yhave got the municipality into a pickle financially. With stop watches in their hand, they pulled a signal alarm and timed the apparatus. The firemen, an hour previously, caught wind of what was coming and were ready for the test. In their anxiety to make a good record, one man is unconssious in the general hospital and another has a fractured arm and a [illegible] leg. With the engines making a great speed, each racing to be the first on the scene, one man fell off each engine on to a hard asphalt road. In the excitement, the commissioner forgot to finish the timing.

Noah Hensley, a farmer, was fatally shot Saturday by Section Foreman W. D. Parrish, near Hilton, on the Virginia branch of the Southern Railway. Hensley is said to have threatened Parrish's life, and is said to have been drawing a revolver when Parish fired a shot through Hensley's head. Parrish gave bond to appear for trial.

The body of the white man found in the fish nets of Ollie Smith, off Broad Rock, near Hampton, was claimed by the United States naval authorities as that of E. L. Tamilo, a member of the crew of the Michigan.

SUNDAY TABERNACLE.

Structure in Washington Will Seat Fifteen Thousand People.

Work on what is to be the largest assembly hall in Washington starte today, when the first shovelful of dirt is turned up for the foundation of the Billy Sunday Tabernacle on the Union Station plaza.

The enormous structure in which Billy Sunday will conduct his campaign for souls in the capital city will hold approximately 15,000. After the campaign is closed, the building can be used to fill the want long felt in Washington for a suitable place to hold the numerous conventions which meet in Washington.

Some idea of the size of the great temple can be gained from the following figures: About 360,000 square feet of lumber and fiftyone kegs of nails will be used; thirty-two double doors will enter the building; there will be sixty-two dormer windows for ventilation; 250 electric lights of 200 watts each will light the interior. It will take fifty carpenters and twenty-five laborers six weeks to complete the work.

The tabernacle will be a small city under one roof. It will have its own emergency hospital with doctors in attendance. There will be a custodian's room, a private postoffice, where the cards of the "trail hitters' can be placed in the boxes belonging to the co-operating churches, a lost and found room, an usher's room, a doorkeepers' room, a secretaries' room, a personal workers' room, and a ministers' room. A private room with a shower is provided for Billy Sunday's use after his sermons. The great platform on which the mighty choir will sing will hold 2,500 persons.

The cost of the tabernacle is estimated at $25,000.

Appropriate exercises marked the beginning of the work today at 12:15

ASSAULTED BY NEGRO

Mecklenburg Woman Slashed to Death by Unknown Man While Husband is Away.

Boydton, Nov. 5.—Mrs. Thomas L. Walker, a bride of ten days, who lived one mile from Lacrosse, was the victim of a horrible assault by an unidentified negro on Friday morning, which resulted in her death.

Mrs. Walker's husband and his small child by a former marriage left home early in the morning for a stay of several hours, leaving the unfortunate woman alone. About noon her brother, Mr. Smelley, called to see her, and found her dying. Her stomach had been slashed open, but she was able to tell him that a black short negro, unknown to her had assaulted her and cut her with a razor and then made his escape. This had taken place at at three hours before she was found. She died shortly afterwards from her wounds.

An immediate search was begun for the murderer by a large posse, which lasted all night and continues at this time, but without success.

Mrs. Walker before marriage was a Miss Smelley.

"Sinai front: Our batteries replied effectively to five enemy cruisers attacking our coast."

A dispatch from Amsterdam says General von Berrer, commanding the Wurttemberg armies on the northeast front, was shot dead Friday while visiting the trenches near Riga. Gen. von Berrer had a prominent share in the Russian positions in the region.

Six persons were killed at Elm Mott, about 10 miles north of Waco, Texas, when the "Katy Limited," on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railroad, struck an automobile on a grade crossing.
